Petitioning the Court

To modify the conditions of Supervised Release as follows:

Kori Ellis shall participate in a mental health treatment program, as directed by the probation officer. Ms. Ellis is to pay part or all cost of this treatment, at an amount not to exceed the cost of treatment, as deemed appropriate by the probation officer. Payments shall never exceed the total cost of mental health counseling. The actual co-payment schedule shall be determined by the probation officer.

RE: Ellis, Kori

Cause

Kori Ellis recently released from the custody of the Bureau of Prisons. While she was an inmate completing her sentence at the Residential Reentry Center, she was meeting with a clinician at Dolan Mental Health. Now that Ms. Ellis has released from custody and started her term of supervised release, she would like to continue seeing the clinician at Dolan for support. United States Probation supports the continuity of services and this would also provide monitoring of any prescribed medications.

Therefore, it is respectfully recommended that the Court modify the conditions of supervised release to include a mental health condition. Ms. Ellis and the Assistant Federal Public Defender have been notified and support this modification.

Respectfully submitted,
